

These are the gardens of Eyrignac Manor, where the writer Gauthier de Costes de la Calprenède lived in the 17th century. He coined the famous expression «Fier comme Artaban» («Proud as Artaban» - I.e. proud as a peacock).

We are happy to welcome you into this setting and hope you will share its poetry. We promote excellence in the Art of gardening particularly emphasising two values : the quality and tradition of manual gardening done by our 6 skilled gardeners. Edges of the alleyways cut using string as a guide, careful finishing of the lawns, precise pruning, control of the plants and all those details that go to make Eyrignac a continuous sculpture demanding constant attention.

Eyrignac is one of France's most beautiful private gardens, and contains one of the finest examples of the Art of Topiary : a unique collection of over 300 topiary sculptures and 50,000 yew, hornbeam, box and ivy plants are embroidered like the backdrop to a natural opera where the 7 springs and light sing in the Black Perigord landscape.

Eyrignac is a place that has been lived in for a very long time, a living environment, a place that is still developing thanks to your presence as you contribute to its very "soul".

I am available to stop and chat, often in the garden, and to listen to your comments and suggestions which are always welcome, either via my mobile phone on 00.33.6.08.28.00.29 or via the visitors' book if I am not able to meet you personally.
